

PRIVACY POLICY

DATA TRACKING

My website server automatically tracks IP addresses, user origins, browser and operating system information of visitors to this website, as do most servers, for traffic analysis purposes only.

MARKETING PROSPECTS

The contact information of visitors and clients who express an interest in or use my services is given voluntarily or via referrals and is kept on file for my own marketing purposes, and is not distributed to any third-party companies.

TESTIMONIALS

Feedback, testimonials, and surveys submitted (via online forms, emails, and in writing) by clients and visitors may be shared with prospective clients. The only contact information shared in these testimonials will be your first name, last name initial, company (if any), and city and state. In the future, these testimonials may be featured on my website and/or in my marketing materials.

COOKIES

Cookies are never used by us to secretly retain information on visitors to our website.

DATA STORAGE

Any data gathered and retained on this website by me is volunteered and is kept in offline databases and files and on personal computers for as long as clients and visitors express an interest in my services.

REMOVALS/MODIFICATIONS

If you have contacted me in the past for information or to use my services and would like to update your information or be removed from my contact lists, you may (at any time) submit a note in writing with your contact information and a brief explanation of why you've decided to have your information removed or modified via email to:
